WEB AND VIDEO HITS FOR EARTH HISTORY LECTURE CLASSES

Introduction
1. Constant exploration of the internet is important for all sciences, including geology.
2. For every Unit Study Guide, there will be a list of web hit sites and video hit sites (see examples below).
3. The URLs for these sites are located on the DMC- Kramer’s Personal Homepage- Geol 1404 site.

4. This is not mandatory; but you will lose 4 – 6 or more points per exam if you chose to not to participate.

Exam 1 (Example)
1. This could be FOUR easy points. Did you turn in a Unit 1 web hit and Video hit and write a paragraph for each of these hits?
   A. Yes
   B. No

5. Just printing a copy of a web site is not enough
6. I will expect you to write a paragraph about what you learned or liked about each of your web site visits per Unit or compare the subject to a personal past experience.

EXAMPLES: Web Hit Preparation Per Unit
7. (EVERY UNIT HAS ITS OWN SET OF WEB & VIDEO HITS)
8. You are to print out the first page of your Web Hit OR on paper - write out the URL to the visited site.
9. If printing the web hit page, make sure that you set the printer to only ONE PAGE, or you may get 60 pages.
10. Write your name, unit web hit number and class day and time (otherwise I will give someone else your credit).
11. It will be on the back side of this page (or front on blank paper) that you will write your paragraphs.

Below is an example of a web hit printout for Unit 1.

12. On the top half of the paper, write your paragraph about what you learned from a selected web site or compare to a related, personal past experience.
13. (Do not write and copy the text, I can also read what is on the web hit).
14. The writing must be clear, neat and concise IN BLACK OR BLUE INK OR PENCIL (otherwise no credit).
15. I want a minimum of three complete sentences with correct punctuation. Use more paper if needed.
16. FOR VIDEO WEB SITE, write the subject of the video on the second or bottom half of your paper.
17. I want a minimum of three complete sentences for the video with correct punctuation. I want you to explain to me something new that you learned.

REPEAT - EACH UNIT HAS ITS OWN SET OF WEB and VIDEO HITS
